ANNOUNCEMENTS

On Thursday a large plate glass window was put in at the Capital Lunch, to replace one that had been broken over a week ago when a boy was washing the windows. The window was insured through the agency of C. E. Whitney, under whose direction the new glass was put in.

POLI'S THEATER. "The White Sister."

The unanimous opinion of all who have seen "The White Sister" at Poli's theater, this week, is "that a better play than this one has never been seen play than this one has never been seen in this city." From the very first act the play abounds with situations and climaxes that shows the affthor's pen off to good advantage.

The staging of the production, the scenic equipment and the other details that have been carefully looked after by J. Francis Kirke, the stage director of the popular stock company, had a tendency of creating any amount of tor of the popular stock company, had a tendency of creating any amount of favorable comment regarding the presentation of the production. In conjunction with the regular play, the illustrated songs between the acts and the excellent moving pictures are proving a popular asset in drawing patrons to that theater.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR Mr. Vallette Responds.

Editor Bulletin: In The Bulletin Nov. 24 John W. Ayer says "there is no such question before the house at all" as the cause of the high cost of living. He says "the causes are known." He wants a "remedy for high prices." I have told Mr. Ayer in a previous article what the remedy was, in my opinion, and Mr. Ayer acknowledged it, in regard to the "chicken business," but his memory seems to be defective. In his gard to the "chicken business," but his memory seems to be defective. In his article Oct, 5 he says "it may be such a thing that public ownership of all money may be the remedy for high prices." He says "may be." So he is in doubt. It is barely possible that Mr. Ayer may be one of those referred to in the 15th verse of the 15th chapter of St. Matthew. Mr. Ayer already has an "infallible remedy," and still chamoring for a "remedy." Strange, Isn't it? Perhaps Mr. Ayer hasn't given his "infallible grass-snowball mixture reme-

It is now silent, and may perhaps be recast. For 85 years it has rung for church services and celebrations.

One of the possible sources from which potash may be derived is in association with saline deposits left by the drying up of large bodies of salty waters, such as are known to have expisted at one time in many of the now desert areas of southwest Oregon, Nevada, southeast California, Utah and elsewhere. It is hoped that by testing these saline deposits some may be found sufficiently rich in potash to have a commercial value and that there may even be located some large and important deposits.
